a. Document Translation Services

1. Legal Translation

We have a team of professional translators who have wide knowledge in translating all types of legal documents including but not limited to: contracts and agreements; case papers; power of attorney; m/b/d certificates; University certificates and transcripts; patents, laws and regulations.

2. Technical Translation

There is no doubt that the technical translation is considered to be one of the most difficult translations since it requires a wide knowledge of the field, as well as the terms and expressions used. Our team includes a group of technical translators who not only have a good command of technical terms and terminology, but also are well versed in many technical fields. They have translated many technical documents including manuals of motorcycles, cars and machines; user guides; etc.

3. Marketing Translation

There is no doubt that the technical translation is considered to be one of the most difficult translations since it requires a wide knowledge of the field, as well as the terms and expressions used. Our team includes a group of technical translators who not only have a good command of technical terms and terminology, but also are well versed in many technical fields. They have translated many technical documents including manuals of motorcycles, cars and machines; user guides; etc.

4. Medical Translation

Medical translation is considered one of the most complicated text types since it requires a high level of proficiency in the medical field. It requires that the translator is knowledgeable in that field. It isn't just about terms, but also about being a voracious researcher who can tailor the text to serve its main aim and purpose.

Endpoint's team is the best team to provide you with a medical translation.

5. Commercial and Business Translation

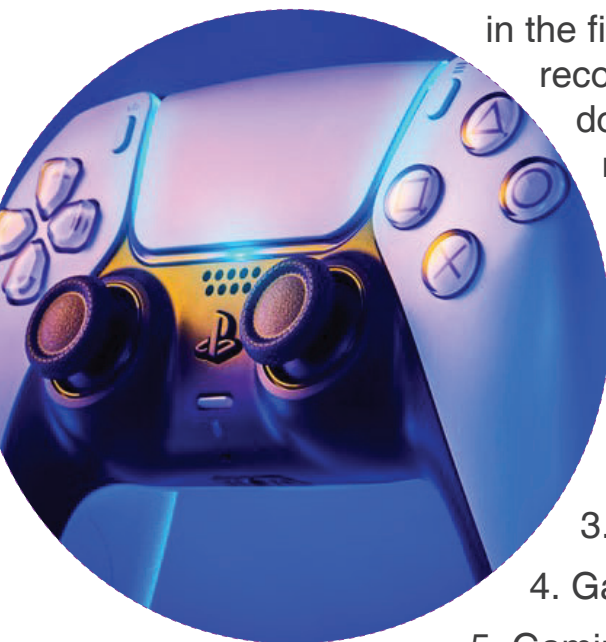

Commercial and Business Translation services we provide include, but are not limited to: commercial agreements, quotations, technical specifications, tender documents, bids, receipts, financial statements, budgets, auditing reports, and commercial correspondence.

6. Banking Documents

Our company provides translation services to a significant number of banks and other related financial institutions.

7. Games

The electronic video gaming industry is considered one of the most prosperous and successful electronic industries in the field of entertainment. In 2018, its total value hit a record high of approx. 138 Billion USD. Its value doesn't only include money and profit, but it also makes a significant impact upon people. Our veteran translators deal with all these challenges and tailor the video games translation services to fully achieve this. The video game translation services include but are not limited to:

1. Web gaming
2. Mobile Gaming
3. Marketing and promotional materials
4. Gaming Newsletters
5. Gaming Brochures
6. Gaming software

8. Travel & Tourism

Your brand's tone shall be conveyed to the reader in professional way.

At Endpoint Translation, your travel and tourism material shall be translated competently; conveying the intended tone of the material. Our expert translators have considerable experience in translating most types of travel and tourism documents including;

- Promotional Materials for hotels
- Tourism Destinations
- Travel Guides
- Travel Brochures
- Hotel Websites
- Newsletters
- Promotional Campaigns

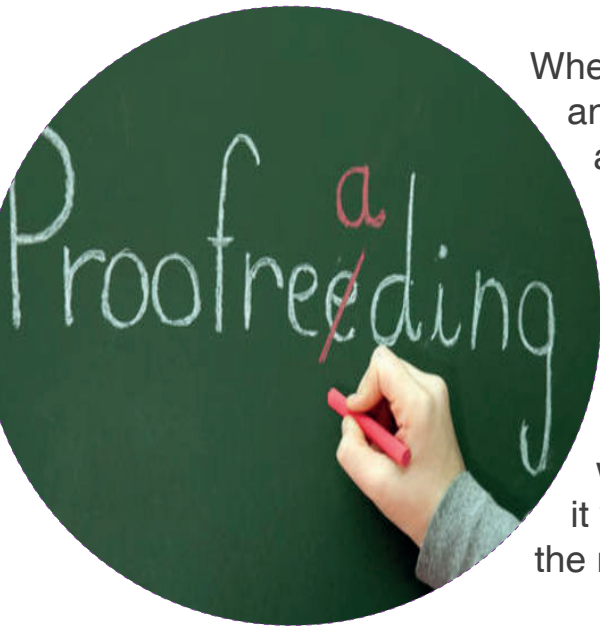

9. Literary Translation

This type of translation doesn't only require a professional translator who can master both the source and the target language, but also a creative one who has a good sense of literature. It requires someone who is capable of delivering the text as a piece of art in the target language. The types of literary texts which we can handle in our company includes poems, plays, short stories, novels, and prose.

b. Editing & Proofreading

When it comes to the editing and proofreading of text, just assign us your work and rest assured we will edit and proofread your work perfectly since we have on staff a group of native proofreaders and editors who shall revise your work and make it read as if it was originally written in the native language.

c. Content Writing

Sometimes you may need someone who can crystalize your ideas into a complete text that truly reflects these ideas. At Endpoint, we have specialized content writers in every field who make your ideas come to life through a tailored text.

d. Desktop Publishing (DTP)

We provide DTP service for most types of documents; including marketing documents, brochures, user guides, etc.

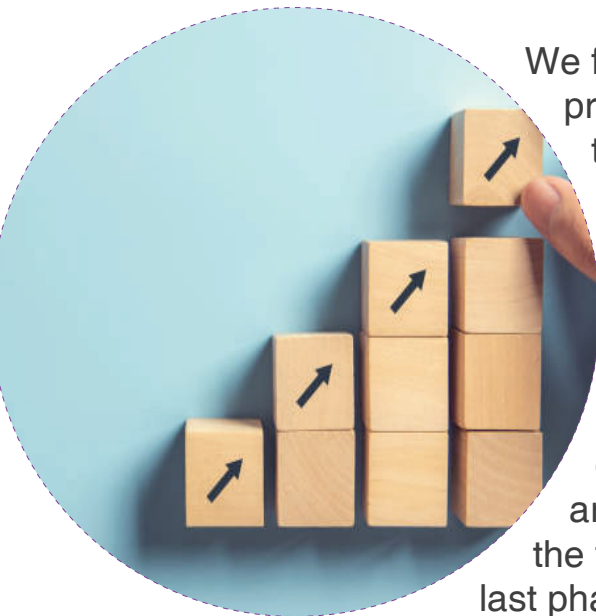

6. Our LANGUAGES

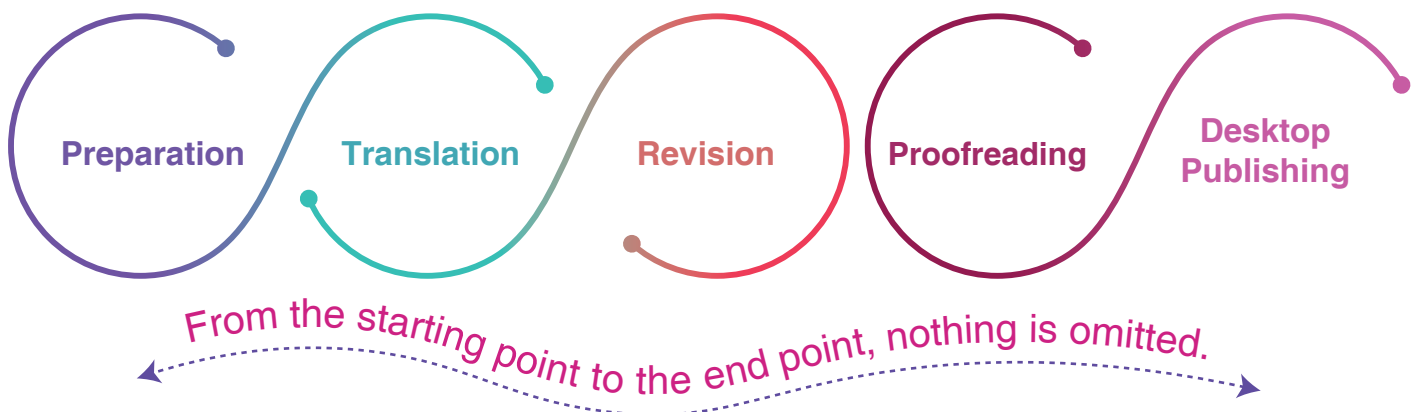

We have a talented team of linguists who can provide translation services in most language pairs including English, Arabic, French, German, Italian, Spanish, Japanese, Chinese, Hebrew, Hindi, etc.

7. WORK CYCLE

We follow a systematic process. Upon receiving the project from the client our team leader prepares a term base which includes all the important terms and expressions used in the files. Then he assigns the project to a group of translators who are specialized in the field. After finishing the translation phase, the target files are sent to the reviser who checks the translation thoroughly word by word to spot any cases of inconsistency or issues in the meaning. Then the revised files are sent to the native proofreader who proofreads the files to carry a clear and simple native style. The last phase of the work process is the DTP process in which we create a near copy of the source file to provide the client with a target file that carries the same format as the source file.

8. Our RATES

We provide translation services that are competitively priced based on word count, language, deadline, and the topic of the translation. For more information, and quotations, please contact us:
